Summary of Article

Jon Reades

2023-09-07

I have adapted this document from a Tweet by @HeatherKEvans and several of the follow-up responses.

1 Full Reference

2 Questions

2.1 What is the article about?

2.2 What kind of contribution is the paper trying to make?[1]

2.3 What gap(s) does it identify/tackle?[2]

2.4 What is/are the main research questions(s)/argument(s)?[3]

2.5 How are they explored/presented?[4]

2.6 How are data used to test them?[5]

2.7 What are the main findings?[6]

2.8 What is the contribution?

3 Discuss!

4 What am I still confused about?

5 Based on the above, why was I encouraged to read this?

[1] Is it conceptual, theoretical, empirical, or something else?
[2] If there is a clear 'gap' identified, great, but what other literature(s) mentioned? Meaning, do they lay out or contrast different 'groups' of related articles
[3] What ideas are going to be tackled?
[4] How do they say they will test and/or make use of these ideas as part of their research?
[5] Where does the data come from, and how well do they explain what it contains? Is it biased or limited in any way?
[6] Just the highlights!